Swimming and water activities enrich our lives. People enjoy activities such as swimming, surfing, scuba diving and boating. People should follow simple rules to make water activities safer and to help keep everyone safe.

At the beach, swimmers should follow the lifeguard's instructions. Surfboard riders must stay away from bodysurfing and swimming areas. If the sea is too rough or there are big waves, they shouldn't swim. Scuba divers must make sure their equipment is working properly before going on each dive to have a safe trip. They must also learn hand signals, so they can communicate with other divers under water. No-one should dive alone.

There are special rules for people who like boating. First, they should make sure the boat is in good condition. Then, they can plan their trips. After that, they must tell someone else about their plans. Checking the weather forecast is also important. Moreover, they should wear life jackets and use sun cream and shade to protect their skins from sunburn. It is very important to carry a first aid kit, flashlight and a rope.
