B) Reading Comprehension (16 Marks)

We can never evaluate or judge people by their social levels , whether high or low, or by their good appearance or beauty. It is their personality and useful help in developing their community that make them valued . Every society has various members ,each one is doing a certain job working for the good of others .There are engineers , lawyers, judges , doctors ,teachers and businessmen If they do their jobs honestly, properly and efficiently, the society will develop and become more advanced in all fields of life .

No one can simply win respect and honour because he holds a high job ,or high social level ,but because he is faithful to his country and ready to work hard for its luxury. If he fails to do his work in a good way he will lose people's trust . A doctor is not better than a farmer or a mechanic just because he has high education. Our society needs all different jobs .If one job is not available, we will face many problems.

What makes us prefer someone to the other is his honest human behaviour and his excellent performance in his job. A doctor who cares more about making money than his patients is as bad as ,or even worse than a lazy farmer. That is why people should know their potentials and improve themselves by continuous training, research and practice .The more you improve in your work ,the better you will be valued and respected.
